

THE LAYERS OF DESIGN PODCAST

Each episode is recorded and edited with our listeners in mind. The first episode of the Layers of Design Podcast was released on January 4th 2019. At the time, it was a way for our host, Ebehi Diaz-Ijewere to find her voice in the design profession while seeking similar stories for inspiration. Through this platform, she has discovered a way to motivate many creatives by sharing stories from designers and architects across the globe!

With The LoD podcast in its 4th year, Ebehi's goal is to bridge the gap between architecture and the public, shed more light on what architects do, and ultimately increase the value of the profession. We achieve this by conducting insightful prerecorded interviews, Sketch It Out interviews and by organizing engaging community events. Tune in every month as we learn about the journey of several incredible architects and designers!

The Layers of Design Podcast encourages conversation and engages in storytelling with different guests in the design field about their experiences, hopes and passions.

Just finished listening to Episode 57 with Emily at Harrison Design. I met her a few years ago and so enjoyed your discussion with her - especially on the topic of taking care of mental health. I've downloaded the next two and look forward to listening on my drive in to work tomorrow. Great work! I like how you make the listener feel like part of the conversation and the discuss flows very naturally.

Great source of inspiration just wanted to share that Layers of Design has been a great source of inspiration for me especially as I just graduated Architecture school this past May. It hasn't been an easy transition but seeing and hearing from another Nigerian woman and former international student gives me some hope so I just wanted to say thank you for all that you do!

Great Insight into being a design professional

This podcast is really a great listen for those seeking a greater insight and variety of perspectives on what it's like to be involved in art, architecture, and design. The host is super easy to listen to and the guests often provide a wealth of knowledge from what it's like to start their own design firm down to the steps you should take to find your niche in design. I'd definitely reccomened this podcas more

For Non Designers and Designers Alike

PRE RECORDED EPISODES

Our pre recorded episodes focus on sharing stories and experiences of designers in the design field. Our goal is to provide inspiration and insights to the architecture community through the voices of those who are making a difference in the industry. Each episode is a conversation with a different designer, showcasing their unique perspectives and journeys in the field.

The pre recorded episodes are video and audio content released twice a month, offering listeners multiple ways to engage with us. This format allows us to carefully curate each episode and ensure that the highest quality information is shared with our audience.

Whether you prefer to watch or listen, is the perfect way to stay connected to the design community and continue learning and growing as a professional.

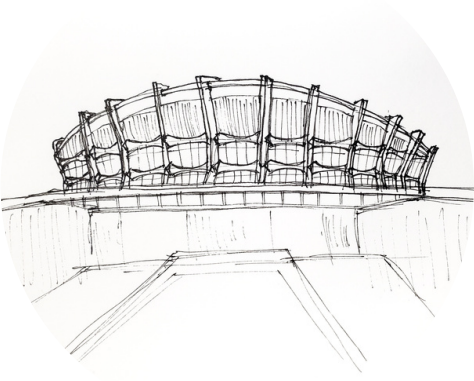

Join us on our mission to inspire and connect the architecture community through the stories and experiences of the industry's top designers.

SKETCH IT OUT EPISODES (SIO)

"Sketch It Out" is a podcast series that takes a unique approach to exploring the world of design and architecture. In each episode, our guests share their experiences, insights and perspectives on the industry while sketching out a building of their choice.

This series is not just another bland Zoom webinar, it is a live and interactive experience that is designed to be entertaining, educational and engaging. Each episode is a full hour of conversation and sketching, allowing our listeners to get an in-depth understanding of our guests' work and thought process.

We handpick talented designers and architects from different backgrounds to share their stories with us, making each episode a valuable and diverse learning opportunity for everyone. Whether you are a beginner or a seasoned professional, there is something for everyone in our series.

With a new episode every other month, "Sketch It Out" is the perfect way to stay inspired and engaged with the world of design and architecture. Join us and sketch along with our guests as we dive into the exciting world of building design and creation.

ARCHITECTURE & THE CULINARY SPACE (ATCS)

Are you curious about what an architect does?
Thinking of dabbling in architecture?
Are you an architecture fanatic?
If you answered yes to any of these questions,
then this event is for you!

Architecture & The Culinary Space hosted by The Layers of Design Podcast as part of the Design X Community, is a unique dining and design event aimed at bridging the gap between architects and the public

The events consist of an intimate dinner with 15 guests, a conversation with the architect/designer of the selected restaurant, a tour of the space, and a specially curated menu. This series offers a unique opportunity to experience dining from an architect's perspective, while connecting with like-minded individuals. The events will be promoted on our social media platforms, with tickets available for purchase one month prior to each event.

Join us for an unforgettable evening of food, design, and conversation.
